

February 27, 2008

Dear Party Leader,

The information on the following pages relates to the allocation of delegates and alternates to be elected to the 2008 Washington State Congressional District Caucuses and the State Convention.

There have been five general questions about this allocation:

1. How many delegates and alternates will be allocated to each Congressional District? (Page 2)
2. How many delegates and alternates will be elected in each County? (Pages 3-4)
3. How many delegates and alternates will be elected in each Legislative District? (Pages 5-6)
4. What is the breakdown of delegates and alternates by Congressional District and Legislative District in each County? (Pages 7-10)
5. What is the breakdown of delegates and alternates by Congressional District and County in each Legislative District? (Pages 11-14)

It is very difficult to convey all of this information in one simple table so instead I have created five different tables, one for each of the questions above.

If you have trouble finding the information to one of your questions about the allocation of delegates and alternates please let me know. I, or one of the other State Party staff members, will be happy to assist you. I will also be contacting each local party organization to make sure that this information is clear.

We will be sending out more information about Legislative District Caucuses and County Conventions in the next couple of days. Your patience in this matter is appreciated.

Thank you for all your hard work.

Sincerely,

Jaxon Ravens
Executive Director
